The Advertiser would like to support Sherman, I think, but hasn't the courage when it considers his limited following in this vicinity. The Journal, as usual, has no convictions. Such, in brief, is the outlook as I see it. I think from all I can learn of the drift of sentiment in the country and particularly in New England, that the Grant movement is slowly declining and that his supporters will undoubt-

declining and that his supporters will undoubtedly go over to Blaine.

As to the Democrats, they are not discussing their own prospective candidaces to any extent, but devoting themselves mainly to tirades against the Republicans who for the moment seems to be uppermost in the contest. I should say that Bayard was the preference of most of them in this vicinity But Ben Butler owns nine-tenths of the Democracy of Massachusetts, and if the party only knew it he can command more votes in this coming national convention than any other one man. The delegates which the Butler Democracy of this State has selected will support him to a man if they get into the convention which would not be st all surprising.

I see the papers are giving currency again to

I see the papers are giving currency again to the old stories about consolidation of the East-ern and Beston & Maine railroads. There is ern and Beston & Maine railroads. There is not a word of truth in the report and never has been. Not one member of the board of directors of either road has ever thought of any such thing. No proposition of the kind has ever been suggested by any official of either road. On the contrary every man connected with either road, from the president down to the brakemen are opposed to it. All the patrons of both roads are opposed to anything of the kind. Every stockholder of the Beston & Maine who does not hold an amount of Eastern stock is opposed to anything of the kind. Any such action of the directors would have to be ratified by the stockholders of both roads and by the Legislatures of three States—Maine, New Hampshire and Massachustts. Out of these five parts it is not possible that any but these five parts it is not possible that any but the Eastern stockholders would ratify. So you see the thing is utterly out of the question and has not been within the bounds of reason. hence the reports? Speculation. Easter ock has gone from 15 to 45 in six months It is true there is some basis for an improve-ment on account of improving business, but not to any such extent. The whole thing is included in this: The Barings have quar-anteed the bonds at par. They are pushing up the stock with a view to sending the bonds to par and thus "unloading." That is all there is to it.

The testimony of Anson B. Bowler, the town clerk of Somerville, to-day, before the investigating committee on election returns is the sunrise gun of other evidence which will startle the people and show the infamous and fraudulent transactions which were perpetrated to steal the State. His testimony that he changed the returns at the request of the conspirators, in order to defeat Smith, the Republican senator of Lincoln County, and elect Hobson, was conclusive. He appeared before the committee of his own volition, and told his story in a straight-forward manner. The Fusionists as soon as they heard of the clerk's confession, were more nervous than ever over the situation, and wonder where the lightning

HOW THE LINCOLN COUNTY SENATOR WAS STOLEN.

Forged Return Substituted

For a Genuine One, THE TOWN CLERK OF SOM

ERVILLE CONFESSES FORGERY. those who can read and write.

And Says He Did It by Orders from Augusta.

Augusta, Feb. 18, Mr. Hale's investigating committee com menced their serious business Tuesday night, and took testimony which convincingly shows the manner in which Gov. Garcelon and Council stole the senator from Lincoln Coun ty. The committee is now possessed of all the returns upon which the Governor and Council based their count. Mr. Sawyer, who claimed to be Secretary of State under the Fusionists, delivered up the returns for senators and representatives and the county returns have recently been found. The committee have also possession of the tabulations made up by Gov. Garcelon and Council in finishing their count. Mr. Bisbee, the committee's clerk, has been for several days classifying these returns and hunting up evidence of the fraud and conspir acy. Tuesday night he brought before the full committee the case of the senatorial returns from Lincoln County. The tabulating by the Governor and Council of the entire senatorial vote discloses these facts: The Republican candidate for sen Lincoln County was Andrew R. G. Smith and the Fusion candidate Isaac T. Hobson. The entire Republican vote for senator as shown by the tabulation was 2609, the Democratic vote was 2446, giving Smith a majority of 163. Gov. Garcelon and Council threw out Smith's entire vote in Nobleboro-140 in number.-because the clerk's return gave these votes to Andrew R. C. Smith, but this still left Smith elected over Hobson by 23 majority. Another own was needed to secure the election of Hobson, and the committee Tuesday night found out how it was got. The witnesses before the committee were the selectmen of the town of Somerville and town clerk. The tabulations show that as at first made up Andrew R. G. Smith was credited with 72 votes from Somerville and Isaac T. Hobsen with 61. But the 72 has been erased, leaving a blank and the 72 votes are carried out in another column and given to Andrew A. R. Smith and this would elect Mr. Hobson by 43 majority, and under this he was certificated, took his seat and acted in the Fusion Senate. The testimony of the selectmen and town clerk shows up the whole proceeding. The original return of the senatorial vote in Somerville was made up in open town meeting by the clerk and it gave the 72 votes cast for Andrew R. G. Smith, which is the proper name of the Republican candidate. The clerk himself so testified, and another witness testified that he saw the return made up and called attention to the fact that Dr. Smith's name that he delivered this return with that of the other officers voted for in the town on the day succeeding the September election, into the office of the Secretary of State in person. The return upon which the Governor and Council acted shows clearly that the votes were cast for Andrew R. G. Smith. This return is entirely in the handwriting of Bowler, the town clerk, and he was summoned to explain the substitution. He is a man whose politics have been "mixed," voting sometimes one way and some time another, but is an intimate, social and business friend of the notorious Capt. Black, who headed the armed Fusion guard at the State House. He testified when confronted with the substituted return that it was in his own handwriting and that the signatures of all the selectmen were made by him without authority. This was confirmed by the selectmen themselves, who also testified to the facts. Bowler was an unwilling witness, but on being pushed by both Republican and Fusion members of the committee, confessed the following

About the middle of December and just prior to the counting-out by Gov. Garcelon and nis Council, he received from Augusta a blank return for senatorial votes for the town of Somerville to be filled out and returned. with a letter of instruction accompanying. He declined to show the letter of instructions to the committee or give the name of the party signing it, claiming that he had mislaid the letter and had forgotten the name of the person signing it, but on pressing from the committee he admitted that the letter had an official heading like others shown to him coming from the Secretary of State, and that it was from Augusta. He testified that he was at his home when he recieved the letter with the blank return; that he sat down at once with the book of the town records with the letter which he had received before him, and filled up the blank return signing the names of all the selectmen though neither were present and neither of them knew of the transaction The page of the town record which was open before him, as he says, when he made out the second return shows plainly that the 72 Republican votes for Senator were for Andrew R. G. Smith, but the return so made up at the time and in the manner in the handwriting of Fowler shows with equal plainness that the 72 votes were given for Andrew A. R. Smith and it is upon this return that the count was finally made up and the certificate given by Garcelon and Council to Isaac T. Hobson. The appearance of the witness was bad. Both the Republican and Fusion members of the committee were convinced that he substituted the name of Andrew A. R. Smith for that of Andrew R. G. Smith in accordance with the letter of instructions received by him from Augusta, which accompanied the blank, and that the plot originated there and not with Bowler. But Bowler declined to produce the letter, and in response to all enquiries persisted that he had mislaid or lost it, but he admitted that the return on which Smith was counted out was made by him in the manner before described, showing clearly that whoever was the author of the scheme a Fusion Senator from Lincoln county was certified by the Governor and Council on a second and substituted return received by them as late as the middle of December, after they had tabulated the returns in favor of the Republican candidate, and that to change the result they were obliged to change and erase the figures and tabulations and to substitute the returns made by Bowler in December, and to destroy the proper and true returns delivered by Bowley into the office on the day after the September election. It is understood that this examina tion was entirely convincing as to the fraud to both the Republican and Fusion members of the committee, and is only the beginning of complete disclosures covering all parts of the

A Great Triumph for the Western Union
A great deal of interest is manifested among Wall street operators and the public generally, and the telegraphic fraternity especially, over the decision in the Paige patent case rendered by Judge Blatchford yesterday. The decision is very broad and covers the principles necessary for the operation of any telegraph instrument. Its effect will be to enable the Western Union Co. to exact a royalty for every telegraph instrument used in the United States, whether by public or private corporation. market closing quiet. Southern flour steady; sales 750 bbls; common to fair extra 5 80@6 40; good to choice do at 6 50@8 00.
